Select the Q&A option, and a Q&A pop-up box will appear. Type your question and send to: All Panelists.
NCATS Strategic Planning Process

Purpose:

• Identify the most pressing opportunities, challenges and research needs in translational science
• Set scientific and operational goals and research priorities
• Engage a diverse and broad community of stakeholders
• Develop an evolving plan that will guide NCATS in fulfilling its mission

NCATS Mission

To catalyze the generation of innovative methods and technologies that will enhance the development, testing and implementation of diagnostics and therapeutics across a wide range of human diseases and conditions.
What is Translation?

Translation is the process of turning observations in the laboratory, clinic and community into interventions that improve the health of individuals and the public — from diagnostics and therapeutics to medical procedures and behavioral changes.
What is Translational Science?

Translational Science is the field of investigation focused on understanding the scientific and operational principles underlying each step of the translational process.

NCATS studies translation on a system-wide level as a scientific and operational problem.
Translational Science Spectrum

- Public Health
- Basic Research
- Clinical Implementation
- Clinical Research
- Pre-Clinical Research

Patient Involvement

NIH National Center for Advancing Translational Sciences
NCATS Stakeholders

- Patients and members of the health advocacy community
- Basic, translational and clinical scientists at universities and research institutions
- Health care providers
- Biotechnology, venture capital and pharmaceutical industry members
- Colleagues at other NIH Institutes, Centers and Offices

Issues for Consideration

https://ncats.nih.gov/strategicplan

• Breaking down professional, cultural and scientific silos across the translational science spectrum
• Focusing on inter-operability of data systems (such as integrating patient data and electronic health records into pre-clinical research)
• Expanding research efforts at NCATS into new therapeutic modalities
• Focusing on patient-driven research and patient/community engagement
• Forming innovative partnerships with a wide variety of stakeholders
• Identifying skill sets and competencies needed for training the next generation of translational scientists
• Utilizing modern communication and dissemination tools to expand awareness of translational science to a wide variety of stakeholders
